CHARLES LEEDS, for purloining a ham, was sentenced by Judge Pruden, yesterday, to thirty days' imprisonment.

CANDIDATES for Police honors are as thick around the City buildings during the day, as flies around a molasses barrel in June.

JUDGE PRUDEN yesterday fined Henry Tier nan $10, and sentenced Peter Ritter to jail for eight days for unmercifully beating Peter THE agent of DeGrath's Electric Oil claims that he is the original man with the broadbrimmed hat, and, further, says that he can be found at the Galt House, where he will cure rheumatic pains free of charge.

In the Second Ward there is to be a warm contest for Councilman on Monday. The Independents have brought out Dr. O. M. Langdon, a popular gentleman, against the regular nominee, Mr. Mack.

THE steamers Lehigh and Jacob Traber left our port last evening for St. Louis, loaded with passengers, the most of whom are destined for Pike's Peak; among them were a number of Cincinnatians.

SINGULAR THEFT .- Some persons, night before last, by raising the grating in the pavement, entered the cellar of a drinking-house on Vine street, above Fifteenth, and stole three barrels of lager beer, which they carried off, and we presume spent yesterday in drinking. Theirs must be a love of the aforesaid beverage which can not brook denial.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE .- A boy, aged about thirteen years, son of D. P. Lowe, a machinist, who resides on Congress street, near St. Philomena's Church, mysteriously disappeared, about the first of March, and has not since been heard from. He was in the habit of going to the river to play with some other boys, and it is feared he has been drowned.

FRED. MOLFORT, a driver on the Sedamsville omnibus line, was yesterday held to bail in the sum of $200 in the Police Court, to keep the peace toward George Langdon, the driver of an opposition line, and the balance of mankind. Fred, threatened to put an abrupt termination to George's existence, and that person, not feeling inclined to shuffle off this mortal coil, had Fred, arrested.

An unfortunate girl, whose reputation for chastity has for some time been mythical, took off the hat of an acquaintance on Fifth street, night before last, and ran away with it. He followed and caught her, knocked her down and beat her most brutally, although there were some others, shaped like men, in the vicinity of the occurrence. Beating a woman is a crime which should never be forgiven.

MECHANICS' AND MANUPACTURERS' EXCHANGE. The officers of the Mechanics' and Manufacturers' Exchange have postponed the formal opening of the organization, which was to have taken place yesterday, for a few days. This was deemed necessary from the fact that the arrangements of the rooms were not completed, and further, in order to give eclat to the enterprise, it is the intention to have an oration delivered on the occasion of the opening, the orator, as yet, not having been selected.

BURGLARY ON GEORGE STREET.-A house occupied by a man named Henry Kirman, and situated on George street, between Elm and Plum, was burglariously entered night before last and $15 or $20 worth of wearing apparel stolen therefrom, together with a silver cup, which had been awarded to a relative of the occupant of the house, by some agricultural fair, which had been held in the State of New York. It is hoped that the cup, which was peculiar in its make, will lead to the detection of the thieves.

CROSS SUITS BETWEEN BROTHERS-IN-LAW. John H. Richardson made complaint before Justice Bell, yesterday, against his brother-inlaw, William C. Groves, for assault and battery, which resulted in fining the defendant $5 and costs. The quarrel originated about the boundary line between their farms, which are situated in Green Township; and it did not end with one suit, but on the contrary promises to be as long-continued as that of the houses of Montague and Capulet; for Groves went before Justice Harris, and upon a warrant arrested Richardson for provoking a breach of the peace, who was fined $1 and costs. The tables were then turned again, and Groves was held in CABINET-MAKERS' STRIKE.

Prospects of a Speedy Settlement. THE BLACK LIST EXHIBITED.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS. .

Agreeable to adjournment, the members of the "Cabinet-makers' Protective Union" met at Arbeiter Hall yesterday afternoon. 'The number in attendance was larger than usual, many having an anxiety to "see the elephant"-vis., the new black list.

The President called the house to order, when the minntes of the previous meeting were read and approved, whereupon the Investigating Committee submitted the following report:

Mitchell & Rammelsberg. The employees of this firm met at Arbeiter Hall, this morning, for the purpose of adjusting the difficulties between them and their employers, but could not agree upon price list. M. & R. asked a committee of their hands to meet them at their office, at two o'clock this afternoon, for further consultation. The result of their deliberations will be made known to-day, when it is thought an amicable settlement will be effected and the strike brought to a speedy termination. From Johnston & Meader, and Mudge-no

In visiting the factory of Weiderich & Jones the committee found one man at work. It was | the shed in an almost dying condition, and unanimously agreed to give this gentleman the benefit of the black list.

Aaron Shaw will pay the list of prices and allow his hands to have a "Shop Committee," but will not bind himself in writing to recognize their supreme authority.

At Smith & Hawley's there was no person at work. These gentlemen will not open their factory until all are ready to commence work. J. S. Johns will not acknowledge the authority of a "Shop Committee," although he does not object to having one in his shop.

Henshaw, Kramer and Avery-same as yes-Brunswick & Bro. signed the list with this proviso-"that we will pay no man more, on weekly labor, than he is worth, and further, the looked up, to await a hearing this morning. journeymen can have a 'Shop Committee,' but we will never recognize the authority of the same."

The hands in this establishment quit work as soon as these facts were made known to

The regular business being over, the committee appointed yesterday to procure a suitable black list, reported that the aforesaid was in readiness.

Shouts of "trot out the elephant" arose from all parts of the house, when the President announced that an opportunity would first be afforded gentlemen who had been previously reported as undermining, to place themselves in a proper position before the Union prior to the "exhibition." Some four or five here came forward and stated that they had gone to work under false impressions, and asked that their names be crased. The members being satisfied with the excuses offered granted their petitions, when the list was placed upon the stage (the dimensions of which are six feet by four) with three names, chalked in a bold and legible hand, thereon.

Groans and hisses were vociferously given for these "jours," when the meeting adjourned to meet this afternoon at two o'clock.

ATTENDANCE OF COUNCILMEN.-We give below an exhibit of the number of times the different members of Council have been in attendance during the year, ending to-day :

Bates 49, Baum 59, Bodley 58, Davis 65 Eggleston 60, Gaines 55, Green 30, Groene 55. Hambleton 39, Hannan 61, Hassaurek 28, Hawkins 62, Higbee 68, Hirst 53, Hollister 53, Kiersted 59, Marsh 61, Maurer 19, Myers 63, Noble 63, Pearce 65, Perry 68, Puthoff 67, Ross 68, Rule 50, Runyan 65, Schaefer 52, Skaats 44, Tafel 48, Toohey 61, Torrence 68, Weasner 67, Wisnewski 33, President Bishop 61.

It will be seen from the above that three members have been in attendance at every meeting, namely: Highee, Perry and Ross; while Maurer, who has answered the purpose for which he was elected, probably, as well as any, has occupied his seat among the Fathers of the City but nineteen times. All the business which has been done during the year might have been transacted in twenty sessions. and for this reason we think Maurer has served his constituents faithfully enough. If the Council were composed entirely of such men as he and Hassaurek, who was absent forty times, the city would be governed better and the cost would be less.

PIKE'S OPERA HOUSE .-- A very fair and appreciating audience was gathered on the occasion of the Mammoth Concert last evening. Madame Pauline Colson elicited much applause in her rendition of the difficult part assigned her in the celebrated Stabet Mater. She was also very happy in her rendition of the French Laughing Song, and responded to a hearty encore. She is most decidedly a favorite among our opera goers. M'lle Parodi and M'me Strakosch were both in good voice and much applauded. The Duett, from Trovatore by Signor Brignoli and M'me Strakosch, was a gem. Herr Mollenhauer's performance on the violincello, was indeed wonderful, reminding one of the lamented Herr Knoop. To-night benefit of M'lle Parodi, on which occasion will be produced Verdi's chef d'ouvre Ernani, M'lle Parodi as "Elvira."

POLICEMAN MORMAN was fined $5 by the Police Judge, yesterday, upon a charge of oppression in office, viz., handcuffing Constable Hill (who was arrested for disorderly conduct) to a negro, and taking him in that manner from the Hammond-street Station-house to the Court-

ALMOST DROWNED .-- A servant girl, who resides in the family of Frank Lewis, on the Cheviot Turnpike, about three miles from the city, a day or two ago fell into a cistern, which was almost full of water, and would have been drowned had not a man, who was working near, ran to her assistance. She was hurt quite man became very angry, and rushed upon the badly by the fall of earth and brick, which by bonds to the amount of $200 to keep the peace. giving way was the cause of the accident.

Another Murderous Affray in a Disreputable House - One Woman Nearly Killed with an Ax - Another Beat over the Head with an Ale Bottle-Arrest of the Assailant. Last night, about seven o'clock, a murderous affray took place in a brothel on the south side of Gano street, between Walnut and Main. The particulars of the affair, as we learn, are as follows: It appears that the proprietress of the establishment, Mrs. Ann Robinson, alias Brown, was asleep upon a bed in a back room, on the first floor, when a girl by the name of Kate Smith attempted to abstract her pocket-book, containing near seven hundred dollars, from her dress pocket. Mrs. Robinson felt Kate's hand, and jumping up seized her by the hair of the head, and, reaching for an ale bottle on a stand near by, beat her over the head with it. Sophia Irwin, who was in the room, interfered to save Kate, when Mrs. Brown, who was perfectly infuriated, grasped a short-handled ax lying upon the floor, and made a ferocious attack upon her. Sophia retreated to the back yard, Mrs. Brown following, dealing blow upon blow, when Sophia fell fainting and exhausted from her wounds. In the mean while Kate Smith had fled from the house, and late last night could not be found. Shortly after the affray the police arrived, and discovered Sophia under covered with blood. She was conveyed into the house, and medical aid immediately procured. Mrs. Brown stated to the officers that Sophis was only drunk, and she had beat her with her fists, but upon examination by Dr. McCarthy, it was discovered that she had a severe cut, about two inches long, over the left eye, and four or five cuts and gashes upon the head; the skull was fractured in three places on the right side; the little finger of her right hand was nearly severed, and the bones of the left hand mashed. There is scarcely any probability of her recovery.

Officers Ritter and Ifferd arrested Mrs. Robinson, alias Brown, and conveyed her to the Ninth-street Station-house, where she was

AMUSEMENTS.

PIKE'S OPERA HOUSE .- The audience which attended the concert last night at this establishment was not large, but it was select, and was surfeited with sweet sounds. M'lle Parodi, certainly the best singer that has appeared in this country for several years, surprised her warmest admirers by her rendition of "Ah mon fils" and Hummel's valse. The latter was most enthusiastically encored, and she sang the celebrated "Rataplan," from The Daughter of the Regiment, with a spirit and brilliancy of execution we do not expect soon to hear equaled.

Madame Colson, who, with her sweet face and still sweeter voice, charms everybody, in the "Chansenette," gratified the audience to such an extent that, here also, they demanded an encore, which was given with that grace, peculiar to this cantatrice, which has won for her a place in the hearts of all who have heard her. Madame Strakosch, Amodio and Brignoli acquitted themselves finely, while the orchestragave its part of the programme with precision and exactness.

To-night will be performed Ernani, with Parodi as "Elvira," and Junea as "Silva." Tomorrow the troupe give a matinee at two o'clock, apon which occasion le petite Cora de Wilhorst will appear as "Lucia," and Parodi as "Lucrezia Borgia," in the second act of that opera, which, on its first representation, was by far the best performance the troupe have as yet given. On both occasions, if the audience be as large as the attractions deserve, the house will be full in every part.

WOOD'S THEATER .- The Lucrezia Borgia buresque by the Buckleys, at Wood's last night, drew a fine audience, which, as they always do from the performances of this troups, went away delighted. This excellent company of performers appears to be increasing in favor nightly, and it deserves all it receives; for their travesties are in much better taste than is usual, and the singing is meritorious. Tonight Cinderella will be performed for the benefit of R. B. Buckley.

NATIONAL THEATER.-The audience las night at the National was the best of the week. and the "Marie Antoinette" of Mrs. Sinclair was quite a creditable performance, as also was the "Count D'Artois" of Mr. Henry Sedley. To-night the really intellectual play of The Marble Heart will be presented for the benefit of Henry Sedley, who will appear as "Raphael De Chatelet," with Mrs. Sinclair as "Marco."

PREL'S CAMPBELL'S MINSTRELS.-Last night this talented troups was greeted with a large and appreciative audience. The company is the best extant, comprising choice musical talent and fun-making specimens of the genue omo. For a rare, intellectual, musical and humorous entertainment, commend us to the Campbell's concerts. To-night and to-morrow night are the last entertainments they give in this city.

MAN THROWN FROM A BUGGY .- Quite an elderly gentleman named Pilcher, who, we believe, resides in the Seventeenth Ward, was threwn from his buggy yesterday, on Front street, opposite the Rolling Mill. The horse secoming fractious ran the vehicle over and threw the driver into a pile of brick, cutting his head, dislocating his shoulder, and break ing his left hand. In consequence of his age and feebleness, it is thought he will hardly recover.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT .- A barber on Fifth street, yesterday, in turning from the stove with an open razor in his hand, stumbled and fell against a customer whom he was about to shave, and would in all probability have cut his throat, but that he threw up his hand, which received the blow. The blade struck between the little finger and the wrist, and severed the veins, thus inflicting a frightful wound. The knight of the shears, who, however, escaped through the back door.

CUTTING AFFAIR IN FULTON .- A man named Bernard Plunket, about a year ago had a difficulty with Neal Conway. Since then Conway has been using some language of a not very delicate character, in regard to Plunket's wife, which incensed him so that a few days ago they quarreled again, which resulted in wounding Conway in the face and neck with a knife quite seriously. The case was vesterday before the Police Court; but as Plunket, by a number of witnesses, showed a good character, he was held in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next term of the Court of Common

A LADY ON THE MALTESE INSTITUTION .- Not long since, says the Sandusky Register, we gave in this column the curtain lecture one "Dr. Roger," who had joined the Sons of Malta, had received from his better half. Mrs. Tomkins has followed her scolding sister's example. and gives her husband, also a Son, a "blessing."
Mrs. T. is represented to have gone to bed with the determination to keep wide awake and wait patiently for her lesser half, who has gone to attend the initiation of a brother. In due time Tomkins comes home, and creeps quietly into bed, so as not to disturb his wife, who he hopes bed, so as not to disturb his wife, who he hopes is sound asleep. He is just entering the land of dreams, when Mrs. Tomkins commences: "Sons of Malta, indeed! A pretty institution. I'd like to know what it means! What do you say, 'the rough andrugged road?' I guess I've travaled that pratty wall, with you coming you say, 'the rough andrugged road?' I guess I've traveled that pretty well, with you coming home at this hour of the night. 'Condition!' oh, of course, you must be in good condition. Every Son of Malta is, I believe, but I'd like to know how long they will remain so. What, when they've resigned the office of G. R. I. A. X. U. P.? Oh, of course, of course, any man who holds an office with such a lot of initials can't help be in bad condition. Don't talk to me. What does it all mean? that's what I'd like to know. 'Swim?' No. sir. I can't swim! me. What does it all mean? that's wime. I like to know. 'Swim?' No, sir, I can't swim. I suppose you can, though. You've got along swimmingly with me, because I'm such a fool; swimmingly with me, sir, no sir. You can but it won't last long, sir, no sir. You can swim as much as you please, but you shan't swim as much as you please, but you shan't swim with me any longer. You shall not set me on a 'gridiron.' I won't turn round, and I shall please myself whether I go to sleep or not. Why, you've had at least a pail full of lager bier. Be off and don't touch me. I'll have nothing to do with you or your 'solemn conclave.' I have not 'departed,' nor do I intend to depart. I'll just live, if its only to plague you. Do you hear what I say, Tomto plague you. Do you hear what I say, Tom-kins? I'll have nothing to do with you. 'Expedition!' you're smart now, aint you? ask if such a set of fellers as the Sons of Malta ever could join an expedition! Fiddle on your regalia! what do you server I say the say the say the say of the galia! what do you suppose I care for that? Dazzle my eyes, would it? I don't know that. After looking on such a dazzling figure as you are, it must certainly appear a very brilliant spectacle. What do you say—'oats—oats?' I spectacle. What do you say—'outs—outs?' I don't know what you mean, sir. No, Mr. Tomkins, I don't want to know, either. Go to sleep, sir, and let that be recorded."

SHADE-TREES .- An association, called the "Shade-tree Association," was formed in In-dianapolis some months since, but it only lived to puff and scream for a very brief period. The city journals are—vainly, we fear—endea-voring to revivify the defunct careass by such effeminate invocations as these: "Where is the Shade-tree Association?" "Is the Shade-tree Association dead?" Can't those all-powerful editors put their shoulders to the wheel?

FATHER WALKER .- Says the New York Express: We have no desire to impugn the state-ments of "persons worthy of confidence;" but it is a duty to say that this statement of the Propagateur Catholique is in conflict with the apparently well-authenticated reports, in other apparently well-authenticated reports, in other quarters, that William has gone off to the Pa-cific, not to enter a "religious order," but to perform some new feat of fillibusterism.

A LARGE ORDER .- We saw at Appleton's the other day, says a New York paper, a mountain of books packed for the State of Ohio. The Superintendent of State Schools, who has charge of the purchase of school-books for the whole State, and who makes it a point, so far as possible, to secure uniformity in the school-books used throughout the State, had ordered eighty housand volumes from this firm.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES .- Mr. Williams editor of the Utica Herald, writing from Tunis, states that the American Consulate is supported at Tunis at an expense of $4,100 per year, and yet but one American vessel has anchored in that harbor in five years.

The Henry Clay Festival Association of New York intend to celebrate the birthday of their old Chief on the 12th of this month, and have invited many venerable politicians to be present and address them.-Fillmore, Bell, Crittenden, Hunt, Winthrop and others.

The last of the tribe of Seminoles, who will be compelled to emigrate from Florida, passed up the Arkansas River, two or three weeks since, in charge of Mr. R. M. Johnson, of Fort Smith. The remnant left in Florida, it is said, will be permitted to remain. The Rev. Mr. Fawcett, Wesleyan Methodist ford I frict, was among the injured by the recent Canada railroad disaster. He died from his injuries on the 21st. He was the sixth The Grand Junction (Tenn.) Quidnunc of Saturday last says: "We had a real white-robed, hyperborean snow-storm at Grand Junction yesterday morning. Think of that! snow-storm in the sunny South on the 18th of March." The Opposition State Convention of Tennessee was hold at Nashville on Tuesday last. The Patriot says that by the speeches of Col. Mosely, W. McConnico, A. M. Looney and

"the old fires were set to burning again. A murderer named George Murray escaped from the jail of Petersburg, Perry County, Penn., last Saturday. The sum of $70 is offered for his apprehension.
